

The IOM Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) has started tracking the movement of irregular migrants in the regions of Gao and Segou (in Benena). Migrants, mostly from different sub-Saharan countries and West Africa in particular, travel long distances often facing harsh conditions and spending lots of money to reach their final destination.

Most of the migrants are believed to travel through the capital city, Bamako, to the strategically located town of Gao and Benena border, before heading towards Algeria, Niger or Libya, and finally reach Europe for some of them. Gao is an important transit point and is often preferred by many irregular migrants due to the relatively easy access of its routes to the Mediterranean. Benena is also an important point through which migrants going to Burkina Faso, Niger and Libya choose to pass.

IOM has deployed trained and experienced staff in data collection and population flow monitoring to undertake field surveys with migrants along key migratory routes. The exercise will also profile migrants, as well as assess their intentions and causes of migration.

Concurrently with data collection and profiling, IOM is also implementing information campaigns in Northern and Central Mali to support migrants in making informed decisions regarding their intention to migrate, providing assistance to migrants wanting to return to their country of origin, and offering referral services to vulnerable migrants that are victims of human trafficking or smuggling, or in need of general psychosocial support.

KEY FINDINGS

- Most of the migrants are men
- 4% of departed migrants are minors
- 2 165 migrants arrived in Gao and Benena
- 1 877 migrants departed from Gao and Benena
- 39 % want to go in Europe, mainly in Spain and Italy
- Algeria, Burkina Faso and Niger are major transit points
- Guineans, Senegalese and Gambians rank first among non Malian migrants transiting through Gao and Segou to the West African countries, North Africa and Europe.

GLOBAL DEMOGRAPHY

	Men	Women	Total	Minors	Adults
Arrived	2 101 (97%)	64 (3%)	2 165	87 (4%)	2 078 (96%)
Departed	1 808 (96%)	69 (4%)	1 877	77 (4%)	1 800 (96%)

The majority of identified migrants in Gao and Benena were men, representing 97% of all migrants arrived in transit in these locations and 96% departed to other countries, while women represented 3% at arrival and 4% at departure. 4% of minors have been identified at arrival and at departure.

NATIONALITIES OF MIGRANTS

During the reporting period, the vast majority of identified irregular migrants were citizens of Guinea (44%), Mali (22%), Gambia (12%) and Senegal (12%). Nationals of other countries including Côte d'Ivoire, Sierra Leone, Guinea Bissau, Liberia... were also identified. The majority of Guineans recorded would constitute a new trend in comparison with recent years where Senegalese and Gambians figured at the top of the list.

FINAL DESTINATIONS OF MIGRANTS

At this stage of the journey, the final destination is usually not defined yet, however, the following trends emerge. Most migrants mentioned Algeria as their final destination, followed by Spain, Libya, Italy, Niger, France, United Kingdom and Morocco. In Algeria and Libya, some migrants temporarily stop their travel, work to acquire enough savings to continue their journey. The European continent alone represents 39% of declared intended final destinations.

The assessment has shown a repeated tendency for a majority of migrants to dissimulate their intended final destination.

MEANS OF TRANSPORT

All migrants arrived in Gao and Benena in transit buses. However, migrants are mainly transported in trucks when departing from Gao while after crossing Benena border, they continue by bus.

COUNTRIES OF TRANSIT AFTER MALI

Algeria, Burkina Faso and Niger constitute main transit countries for migrants after Mali.

While the majority of migrants departing from Gao transit in Algeria mainly in Tamanrasset, those who cross through Benena transit in Ouagadougou (Burkina Faso) and, for many of them, continue to Niger.

Most of migrants who arrive in Niger from Gao transit in the city of Agadez.

METHODOLOGY:

Sources include authorities, direct observations and interviews with migrants en route. Quantitative data on nationalities and places of origin and destination are based on information provided by migrants and convoy drivers in the flow monitoring points established by IOM and must be used as estimates or approximations.

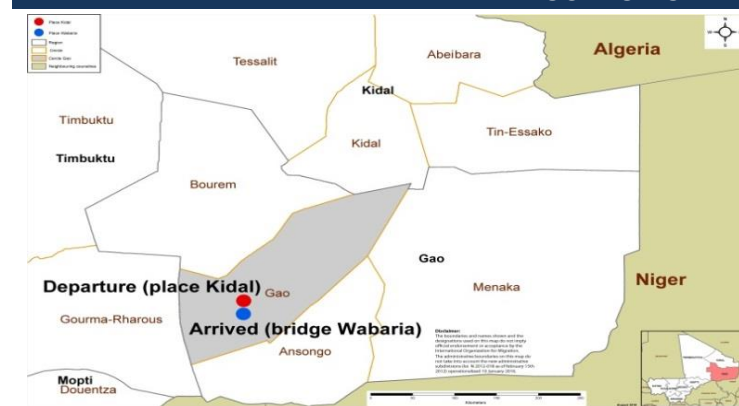

Mobile data collection on electronic tablets is used to gather data. The data is sent daily through 3G internet connection to IOM server in Bamako. This reduces processing time by eliminating data entry errors, delivery time of paper forms and data entry time into the database, while providing a daily and rapid data analysis and report production.

LOCATION OF FMP

Two flow monitoring points (FMP), at Wabarria and Place Kidal, have been deployed. The number of migrants going directly from Gao to Niger without going through Algeria is low. It seems that many road controls discourage smugglers.
