ABOUT DTM

The Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) is a system that tracks and monitors displacement and population mobility. It is designed to regularly and systematically capture, process and disseminate information to provide a better understanding of the movements and evolving needs of displaced populations, whether on site or en route. For more information about the DTM, please visit www.displacement.iom.int/afghanistan.

In Afghanistan, DTM employs the Baseline Mobility Assessment tool, designed to track mobility, determine the population sizes and locations of forcibly displaced people, reasons for displacement, places of origin, displacement locations and times of displacement, including basic demographics, as well as vulnerabilities and priority needs. Data is collected at the settlement level, through key informant interviews, focus group discussions, and direct observations.

This provincial report summarises the DTM findings in Takhar. The data has been collected throughout 16 districts and 451 settlements in Takhar. This provincial report is supplementary to its nationwide counterpart, please see: Baseline Mobility Assessment Summary Results (November – December 2017).

DTM enables IOM and its partners to deliver evidence-based, better targeted, mobility-sensitive and sustainable humanitarian assistance, reintegration, community stabilization and development programming.

5 TARGET POPULATIONS

Through the Baseline Mobility Assessments, DTM tracks the locations, population sizes, and cross-sectoral needs of the five core target population categories:

1. Returnees from Abroad
2. Out-Migrants
Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs), subdivided into the following three categories:
3. Arrival IDPs
4. Returnee IDPs
5. Fled IDPs

Data on population sizes for the 5 target population categories is collected by time of displacement, using each of the following time frames: 2012-2015 • 2016 • 2017.

KEY INFORMANTS

DTM’s field enumerators, District Focal Points (DFPs), collect data at the settlement level, predominantly through focus group discussions with key informants. The average size of focus groups is five key informants per group. In the rare case that DTM’s District Focal Points cannot physically reach a community, due to insecurity, conflict, or risk of retaliation by anti-government elements, DFPs meet the focus groups at a safe place outside their communities or conduct the assessments by phone.

Significant highlights regarding the overall composition of Key Informant Focus Groups include the following:

RETURNEES

Returnees are Afghan nationals who have returned to Afghanistan in the assessed location after having spent at least six months abroad. This group includes both documented returnees (Afghans who were registered refugees in host countries and then requested voluntary return with UNHCR and relevant national authorities) and undocumented returnees (Afghans who did not request voluntary return with UNHCR, but rather returned spontaneously from host countries, irrespective of whether or not they were registered refugees with UNHCR and relevant national authorities).

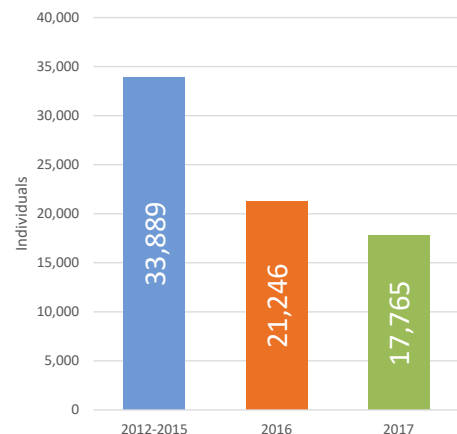

Between the three periods (2012-2015, 2016 & 2017), the number of returnees from abroad to Takhar has been steadily decreasing. The Taloqan, Eshkamesh and Khwajaghar districts of Takhar together host 35,074 returnees; 48% of all returnees in Takhar.

Two settlements of the Takhar province (Marbaz-e-Baharak and Warz Bacha) host 43,385 IDPs and Returnees. This is 60% of the total inflow from the 20 most densely IDP and returnee populated settlements (please see table below) and 26% of the total inflow of all returnees and IDPs in Takhar province. Therefore, just more than a quarter of all IDPs and returnees from the 16 districts and 451 settlements in Takhar are hosted by just two settlements. These communities, due to their high influx of displaced populace, will likely be especially vulnerable to social instability and competition over scarce, already limited resources and job opportunities.

STORIES FROM THE DISPLACED

MOHAMMAD AFSHAR: FROM RETURNEE TO IDP WITHIN AN INSTANT

Before the Taliban takeover of Afghanistan in the mid-1990s, Mohammad Afshar, a 55-year old father of 12 children and husband to two wives, worked as a farmer on his land in Takhar. To escape Taliban rule in 1998, Mohammad and his family moved to Quetta in Pakistan without any proper documentation. "I found a job in a brick factory. My income was decent, and everyone in my family was happy."

But in 2016, after 18 years living in Pakistan, Mohammad and his family were forced to return to Afghanistan to escape the persistent harassment and extortion by authorities. Unfortunately, when he returned to his home in Takhar, his house had been completely destroyed and his land taken over by armed gunmen. Due to his long years in exile, he did not have the necessary support network to reclaim his property. Within an instant, Mohammad and his family were displaced and moved to an abandoned building without doors or windows in another district.

On 15 November 2017, the District Governor paid a visit to Mohammad's village to assess the situation of IDPs. "You are the district governor, but you have no idea what is going on in your district!" shouted Mohammad Afshar, "I have no means to provide for my family, I even sold one of my sons for 5,000 Afghani ($80 USD) to buy food to feed my family. Another son died, because one of the walls of the house we live in collapsed, due to heavy snow. I lost two more daughters to illness, because I couldn't buy enough blankets to keep them warm in the winter. And when I wanted to sell our youngest daughter a few weeks ago, my wife stopped me, exclaiming, 'I would rather all of us die, than lose another one of my children!'" And with these words, Mohammad grabbed the can of fuel that he had brought along, and poured it all over himself. It was only through the quick reaction of bystanders, who took the matches from his hands, that Mohammad Afshar did not manage to follow through with his suicide.

Returnee or IDP? Immediately homeless upon return to Afghanistan, Mohammad Afshar and his family are among the nearly 5,000 Afghan IDPs and Returnees living in tents or in the open air in Takhar.
