ABOUT DTM

The Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) is a system that tracks and monitors displacement and population mobility. It is designed to regularly and systematically capture, process and disseminate information to provide a better understanding of the movements and evolving needs of displaced populations, whether on site or en route. For more information about the DTM, please visit www.displacement.iom.int/afghanistan.

In Afghanistan, DTM employs the Baseline Mobility Assessment tool, designed to track mobility, determine the population sizes and locations of forcibly displaced people, reasons for displacement, places of origin, displacement locations and times of displacement, including basic demographics, as well as vulnerabilities and priority needs. Data is collected at the settlement level, through key informant interviews, focus group discussions, and direct observations.

This provincial report summarises the DTM findings in Nangarhar. The data has been collected throughout 22 districts and 910 settlements in Nangarhar. This provincial report is supplementary to its nationwide counterpart, please see: Baseline Mobility Assessment Summary Results (November — December 2017).

DTM enables IOM and its partners to deliver evidence-based, better targeted, mobility-sensitive and sustainable humanitarian assistance, reintegration, community stabilization and development programming.

5 TARGET POPULATIONS

Through the Baseline Mobility Assessments, DTM tracks the locations, population sizes, and cross-sectoral needs of the five core target population categories:

1. Returnees from Abroad
2. Out-Migrants

   Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs), subdivided into the following three categories:
3. Arrival IDPs
4. Returnee IDPs
5. Fled IDPs

Data on population sizes for the 5 target population categories is collected by time of displacement, using each of the following time frames: 2012-2015 • 2016 • 2017.

▶▶ KEY INFORMANTS

DTM's field enumerators, District Focal Points (DFPs), collect data at the settlement level, predominantly through focus group discussions with key informants. The average size of focus groups in Nangarhar is eleven key informants per group. In the rare case that DTM's District Focal Points cannot physically reach a community, due to insecurity, conflict, or risk of retaliation by anti-government elements, DFPs meet the focus groups at a safe place outside their communities or conduct the assessments by phone.

Significant highlights regarding the overall composition of Key Informant Focus Groups include the following::

▶▶ RETURNEES

Returnees are Afghan nationals who have returned to Afghanistan in the assessed location after having spent at least six months abroad. This group includes both documented returnees (Afghans who were registered refugees in host countries and then requested voluntary return with UNHCR and relevant national authorities) and undocumented returnees (Afghans who did not request voluntary return with UNHCR, but rather returned spontaneously from host countries, irrespective of whether or not they were registered refugees with UNHCR and relevant national authorities).
Almost all returnees in Nangarhar are from Pakistan. The number of returnees drastically increased by 109% in 2016 alone, as compared to the period between 2012-2015, followed by a large 70% reduction in returnees in 2017.

STORIES FROM THE DISPLACED

NAYIM - CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF INSURGENT FIGHTING

Nayim Qudoosi is a single father, currently living in a make-shift tent in a Southern district of Nangarhar, bordering Pakistan. He and his family are amongst the many IDPs in Nangarhar who have been displaced from within the same province. Nangarhar, much like the majority of the border regions of Afghanistan and Pakistan, hosts large Taliban and insurgent presences and is notoriously dangerous. As such, 100% of IDPs that have arrived in Nangarhar are conflict driven.

"At the end of December, ISIS forces attacked our villages and all of the locals fled from the area," Nayim recounts on his experience of conflict induced displacement. "I also took my children with me and nothing from the home and left everything behind. The clash was between Taliban and ISIS and it was getting stronger with every day." Nayim and his family are examples of the hundreds of thousands of innocent Afghan civilians who are caught in the middle of insurgent battles and subsequently become displaced within their own country.

After displacement, shelter status for Afghans in Nangarhar is a priority concern. Nangarhar hosts 51,403 IDPS and Returnees who are living in tents and open air (6% of the province's IDP and returnee population) – the most of all the 15 DTM assessed provinces.

Nayim recounts his experience of living without shelter: "I still remember the cold days and nights where we had no place to live and every moment was hell for us." Eventually, Nayim installed a small tent made of cloths and has since been living there with his children. Without access to adequate shelter, beds, blankets, food or latrine facilities, the family is extremely vulnerable and the children have gotten sick many times. Unable to work due to his kidney difficulties, Nayim resorts to begging in order to find food. He tells us that his children are still alive today only because neighbours have provided them with food whilst he has been out begging.

Afghanistan is home to extreme weather conditions. As such, Nayim and his family are desperately in need of adequate shelter.
