2,374 IDPs in Laghman are living in tents, most living without access to grid electricity. Some IDP families have instead access to solar energy, like this family in Aziz Khan Kalay, Qarghayi district © IOM 2018

ABOUT DTM

The Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) is a system that tracks and monitors displacement and population mobility. It is designed to regularly and systematically capture, process and disseminate information to provide a better understanding of the movements and evolving needs of displaced populations, whether on site or en route. For more information about DTM in Afghanistan, please visit www.displacement.iom.int/afghanistan.

In Afghanistan, DTM employs the Baseline Mobility Assessment tool, designed to track mobility, determine the population sizes and locations of forcibly displaced people, reasons for displacement, places of origin, displacement locations and times of displacement, including basic demographics, as well as vulnerabilities and priority needs. Data is collected at the settlement level, through key informant interviews, focus group discussions, and direct observations.

DTM enables IOM and its partners to deliver evidence-based, better targeted, mobility-sensitive and sustainable humanitarian assistance, reintegration, community stabilization and development programming.

5 TARGET POPULATIONS

Through the Baseline Mobility Assessments, DTM tracks the locations, population sizes, and cross-sectoral needs of five core target population categories:

- 1. Returnees from Abroad
Afghans who had fled abroad for at least 6 months and have now returned to Afghanistan
- 2. Out-Migrants
Afghans who moved or fled abroad
- 3. Fled IDPs
Afghans from an assessed village who fled as IDPs to reside elsewhere in Afghanistan
- 4. Arrival IDPs
IDPs from other locations currently residing in an assessed village
- 5. Returned IDPs
Afghans from an assessed village who had fled as IDPs in the past and have now returned home

Data on population sizes for the 5 target population categories is collected by time of displacement, using each of the following time frames: 2012-2015 • 2016 • 2017 • 2018.

METHODOLOGY

The overall objective of DTM's Baseline Mobility Assessment in Afghanistan is to track mobility and displacement, provide population estimates, locations and geographic distribution of displaced, return and migrant populations, as well as refugees, nomads, cross-border tribal groups, and both domestic and international labour migrants. DTM captures additional mobility information, including reasons for displacement and return, places of origin and destination, times of displacement and return, secondary displacements, and population demographics, vulnerabilities and multi-sectoral needs.

DTM predominantly employs enumerators who originate from the areas of assessment. Enumerators collect quantitative data at the settlement level, through focus group discussions with key informants (KIs). Through direct observations, enumerators also collect qualitative data on living conditions, basic services, and security and socio-economic situation.

Due to security risks, enumerators cannot carry smart-phones or tablets in the field, therefore they collect data, daily, using a paper-based form, which is pre-filled with data from the previous round for verification of existing data and to expedite the assessment process. Completed forms are submitted weekly to the provincial DTM office and verified for accuracy by the team leader and data entry clerk. Once verified, the data is entered electronically via mobile devices, using KoBo forms, and submitted directly into DTM's central SQL server in Kabul, where it is systematically cleaned and verified daily, through automated and manual systems. This stringent review process ensures that DTM data is of the highest quality, accuracy and integrity.

When DTM assesses a province for the first time, enumerators collect data through two rounds of two-layered assessments:

1. District-level assessment (B1): this assessment aims to identify settlements with high inflows and outflows of Afghan nationals and provide estimated numbers of each target population category.
2. Settlement-level assessment (B2): based on the results of B1, this assessment collects information on inflows and outflows of each target population category at each settlement (village), identified through B1. Additional villages are also identified and assessed, based on referrals from KIs.

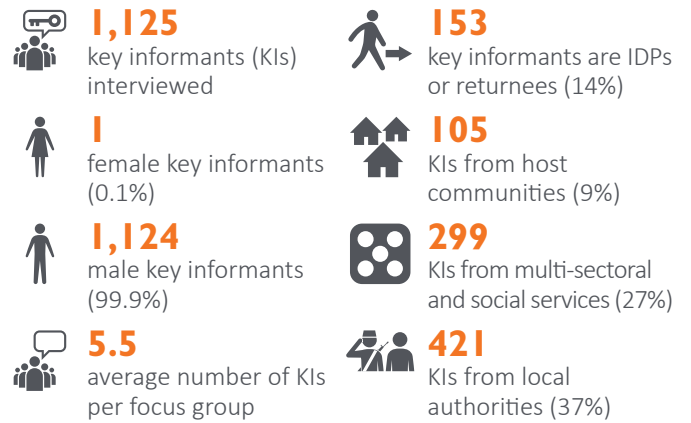

Since DTM has now assessed all 34 provinces, only settlement-level assessments will be conducted in the future. Pending continued funding, DTM aims to conduct baseline mobility assessments, nationwide, twice per year.

KEY INFORMANTS

DTM's field enumerators collect data at the settlement level, predominantly through focus group discussions with key informants. While assessing communities, enumerators also observe the living conditions and availability of multi-sectoral services. In the rare case that DTM's District Focal Points cannot physically reach a community, due to insecurity, conflict, or risk of retaliation, DFPs meet the focus groups at safe locations outside their communities or conduct the assessments by phone.

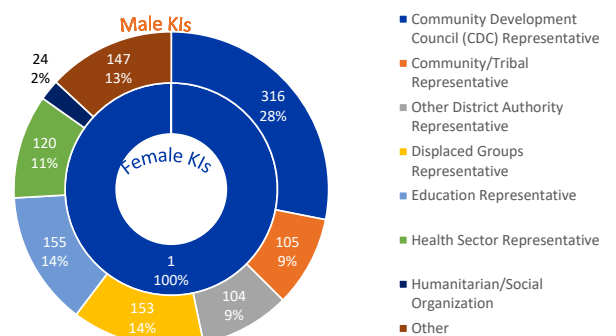

By actively recruiting more female enumerators, though challenging, DTM has made significant strides to improve gender inclusion in focus group discussions, although there is much room for improvement. However, Laghman is one of the provinces, where DTM struggled to get female key informants due to cultural sensitivities and it being a conservative province.

RETURNNEES

Returnees are Afghan nationals who have returned to Afghanistan in the assessed location after having spent at least six months abroad. This group includes both documented returnees (Afghans who were registered refugees in host countries and then requested voluntary return with UNHCR and relevant national authorities) and undocumented returnees (Afghans who did not request voluntary return with UNHCR, but rather returned spontaneously from host countries, irrespective of whether or not they were registered refugees with UNHCR and relevant national authorities).

The number of returnees from abroad to Laghman increased by 63% in 2016 compared to the period between 2012 and 2015. Conversely, in 2017, there was an 83% decrease in returnees. There was a further decrease of 81% in 2018.

Overall, Laghman province hosts a total inflow of 136,038 returnees and IDPs, of which 70% (94,886) are returnees and 30% (41,152) are IDPs. The table below shows the 20 settlements in Laghman that are most affected by this influx. These 20 settlements (10% of the 205 settlements assessed in Laghman) host 54% of the province’s returnees and IDPs. These communities are especially fragile and susceptible to social instability induced by this large influx and the subsequent competition for limited, already overstretched resources and job opportunities. 10 of the 20 most affected settlements are in Alingar district, which have 59% (42,951) of the returnees and IDPs from this group.

STORIES FROM THE DISPLACED

A Man Desperately Trying to Support his Family

Taj Muhammad is the head of a family of nine, originally from Mehtarlam district in Laghman. He has migrated to Alishang district due to clashes between insurgent groups and government forces in his home district. His family is part of the 21,754 fled IDPs from Mehtarlam district. He speaks of the psychological impact the clashes have on him and his family members. He is afraid that his and his family's lives would be threatened by the fighting if they returned.

Currently, Taj Muhammad does not have a proper job to support his family. He operates a food cart to try to feed his family. On an average day, he earns around 50 Afs ($0.65).

In order to have some shelter for him and his family, he built a room on government land in Mehtarlam — which was subsequently demolished by the municipality. They are currently living in a poorly built shelter because they cannot afford rent for a proper home. He says he misses his hometown, where he was able to farm and had a proper home to live in.

**Please note that the names have changed and village locations have been kept anonymous to protect the identity of the interviewee.*

Taj Muhammad, like many other conflict affected IDPs, suffers from displacement and hopes to one day be able to return home — where he hopes to have access to better living conditions. © IOM 2018
